

In Celebration of LGBT Pride Month:

Concert & Talk with U.S. Singer Songwriter Steve Grand & Band

June 10 (talk) & 12 (concert)

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 10 - IT GETS BETTER. A Talk with Steve Grand

7 p.m., Dschungel Wien, MQ, Museumsplatz 1, 1070 Vienna

Steve Grand became a viral sensation in July 2013 when his hit “All-American Boy,” which was made for $7000, got over a million hits on YouTube in the space of a week. An activist for LGBT rights, Grand will talk about his coming out, his success in the music business, and the challenges starting out in country music as an openly gay artist. In 2013, he appeared on Out magazine’s “Out100” list of prominent LGBT people. In cooperation with ES WIRD BESSER ÖSTERREICH.

Admission is free. Please register by email: programs@usembassy.at

FRIDAY, JUNE 12 - STEVE GRAND & BAND. The All-American Boy LIVE IN CONCERT

7 p.m., EGA, Windmühlgasse 26, 1060 Vienna

The Chicago-based singer-songwriter and model became an overnight internet celebrity in 2013 with his viral hit “All-American Boy” and was acclaimed to be the first openly gay male country musician to attract mainstream attention in the United States. Supported by his band Steve Grand (stevegrand.com) will present for the first time in Austria songs from his recently released pop-country debut album titled All-American Boy. In cooperation with HOSI WIEN.

Admission is free. Please register by email: programs@usembassy.at

Follow us:

By participating you consent to the publication of images/videos taken during the event.